Claim Rejections under 35 U.S.C. § 102

A. Rejection of claims 1-10 under 35 U.S.C. § 102(e) based on Watanabe.

In responding to the arguments made by the Applicant in the response filed on May 7, 2004, the Examiner appears to read the terms concentrators and exchange over broadly to read on Watanabe. The Applicant amends independent claims 1 and 6 to include definitions for concentrators and exchange. Specifically, the Applicant respectfully submits that concentrators concentrate signals from a set of downstream transmission lines to a fewer number of transmission lines. Likewise, an exchange communicates between a concentrator on one end and a backbone network on the other end.

The Applicant reiterates that the destination side of Watanabe cannot be considered to be a concentrator as defined in the independent claims. Further, Watanabe's source side cannot be considered to be an exchange as defined in the independent claims. Watanabe merely discloses a single source machine sending ATM cells through a switch to a single destination machine.

Claims 2-5 and 7-10 are dependant on claims 1 and 6, and therefore, are allowable for the same reasons.
